VOLUME 10, NUMBER 26.

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1912

$2.50 PER YEAR, 10c. PER COPY

Boats Launched.

All the speed boats that will compete in the race this evening were launched and tried out since Sunday. The Alicris and Grey Streak, were the first to get wet and the first to try their speed. The Kermath and Perfection boats were launched Tuesday afternoon and Reid's one jump hydroplane which is to make the V-bottoms look like they are anchored, came out Tuesday night.

Spokane Calls.

The palatial Alaska Cruise Steamer, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's fleet, called southbound last Friday afternoon. She had 108 tourists mostly from the East including a Raymond Whitcomb party of 38. Mrs. Mary E. Hart, official lecturer of the company made the trip and gave frequent lectures on the different Alaska subjects in her foamy lecture hall on the boat.

General Merchandise, Furs, Forwarding

With a 1,100 mile journey to finish, a crowded schedule and limited time, Mayor Wm. A. Gilmore, who was a passenger north on the Jefferson, found it impossible to stop in Wrangell in the interest of his campaign for Delegate to Congress.

Starting at Nome on June 17th and traveling south on the steamer Dora (at the time of the Katmai eruption) to Valdez and to Ketchikan, Mr. Gilmore has had an exciting and successful journey and expresses himself well pleased with the outlook. The remainder of the schedule takes in Juneau, Dawson, Fairbanks and Ruby, winding up at Nome in August on the evening before election.

Alert Firemen Elect Officers

The members of Alert Fire Company No. 1 met Monday evening and elected officers for the half year. The following officers were elected: President, Wm. F. Schubel; Vice President, H. Gaffley; Secretary, F. L. Clarke; Treasurer, J. G. Grall; Foreman, F. E. Gingrass; Assistant Foreman, J. H. Wheeler; Second Assistant, H. Gartley.

The question of dividing the company on account of the two carts being in different parts of the town was settled by dividing the town in two districts by a line from the Presbyterian Church to the beach; all between designated as being West of the line to respond to East No. 1 and all East to cart No. 2.

Public Libraries.

In most public libraries all books are disinfected when they are returned. They go into all sorts of places and are read by sick people in their homes and in hospitals; hence the precaution.

Lives of Doctors.

In keeping others alive physicians appear to lose their own lives. Of all professional men their lives are the shortest. Between the ages of forty-five and sixty-five five doctors die on an average to one clergyman.

ATTITUDE TOWARDS CORPORATIONS.

Let us say to those large aggregations of capital, 'Come into our midst; build railroads, operate steamship lines, start canneries, open the mines of coal and copper and gold, give employment to as many of our people as possible, and all the legitimate fruits of your energy, your daring, your enterprise shall be yours, without let or hindrance. We do not hate you; we want you to come; we want you to succeed; we will help you to succeed, if you do not succeed. We realize that Alaska cannot be developed without the aid of capital. The poor man cannot build a railroad, nor operate a steamship line, nor open a coal mine, establish a cannery, and, yet, without these things, trade languishes, development is impossible, enterprise halts on the very threshold and there is no employment for our people; and if our people have no employment they cannot pay the butcher, the baker, the merchant; business houses fail, stagnation ensues and the pall of depression hangs over the land.'

But let us, also, and at the same time, say to them: You must not interfere with the cause of justice; you must not seek to own the courts, to corrupt juries, to buy or intimidate witnesses; you must keep your hands off the hem of the garment of the white robed figure of justice, for you are no better before the law than the poorest citizen or the most insignificant of your employees, and

You must not seek to own Legislatures or Congresses or Municipal Councils; to the end that they may confer upon you special privileges and advantages not enjoyed by others or that you may influence legislation to your advantage. Your business is not the making of laws; and

You must pay your just proportion of the taxes which go the support of this Commonwealth.

Let us say to them, 'if you come to build up, develop, to act within the law, to do the right thing and the fair thing and the square thing, you are as welcome as the flowers of May; but if you come with the intention to loot, to destroy, to corrupt, to evade just obligations, the hand of every honest man will be clenched to drive you from our midst.'

Let us encourage capital to come to Alaska; let us be just and fair and even liberal to it; but let us be watchful that it be not given the power or opportunity to oppress our people.'

He Wouldn't Advertise.

There was a man who hustled not—
To luck he trusted;
He would not advertise a dot—
And so he rusted,
And likewise busted.

Second Ditto—What was it?
First Wall Street Speculator—I took him out in the country to the farm of a friend, and the first thing he did was to ask to see all the lambs in a corner.—Baltimore American.

Friendly Aid.

Jinks—See here, old boy! You ought to do something to reduce your flesh. You are becoming fearfully stout.
Munks—Say, Jinks, you are about the fortieeth friend who has made that offensive remark today, and I'm getting tired of it. It worries me.
Jinks—That's all right. Worry reduces flesh.

Motor Boat

Club Organized.

At the meeting of motor bugs last Thursday evening a permanent motor boat club called the Wrangell Motor Boat Club was formally organized with the twelve charter members. M. Katzenmeyer called the meeting to order as temporary chairman and the choosing of a Commodore was taken up. Frank L. Clarke was quickly elected by the Club and took charge of the meeting. M. Katzenmeyer was then chosen Secretary and Treasurer and Frank Spaulding Vice Commodore. After committees on by-laws etc were chosen, the objects of such an organization was discussed at length and the club emblem, a combination of steering wheel and propeller, and colors, blue and white, were chosen unanimously. Since the meeting the committee on pennants has arranged for making enough for each member at the present time and they will be displayed on the Glorious Fourth.

While the club has come after the introduction of the speed boats, the purpose of the club makes it a special interest to the owner of any kind of motor propelled craft and boat owners should present their names at the next advertised meeting and become members of the club.

Speed contests with other towns and water carnivals have already been suggested in the club and Wrangell can look forward to some good events to be placed by the Wrangell Motor Boat Club in the near future.

New Fish Commissioner

Ward T. Bower, U. S. Fish Commissioner recently appointed to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of former commissioner Cobb, was a passenger north on the Jefferson Tuesday morning.

Small Thieves Caught and Sentenced.

George James Chew, the Chinese boy recently ran away from his father and Alfred Lott a native boy, were taken into custody last Saturday charged with petty thievery. For some time the force at the T. T. Store has been aware of theft but the identity of the thieves could not be made. Suspicion however pointed to the boys who were living in a tent and a search disclosed canned goods; jam; candy; gum etc. which they had taken in their midnight visits to the store.

Notice

Green Indeed.
Diner—Bring me a dozen fried Green. Waiter—Yes, sir—eggs or oysters?—Boston Transcript.

Alas!
Wagg—Young Silicus says his heart is lacerated. Wagg—Who's the lass?—Philadelphia Record.

A Sign of Age.
You are aging a little when you no longer consider halfdismal a good time.—Atherton Globe.

Locked Up.
That times are hard is merely a relative term. Some one always has the money.—Duluth News-Tribune.

Safe Deposit.
"The pen is mightier than the sword." "But the typewriter puts it all over the pen."—New York Press.

First Electrician.
Teacher—Who was the first electrician? Pupil—Neah; he made the arc light at Mount Ararat.

The White Man in Africa.
"The footprint of the white man is like the footprint of the elephant," says a Swazi native proverb—"it remains in the ground."

Another proverb: "White men are like and yet unlike quails. When you see one in your country you will soon see a flock. But the quails leave you again, the white men never."

No Changes.
"Why don't you work up some improvements in this department?" demanded the proprietor.

"Well, sir, the work has always been done this way. Could I have an increase of salary?"

"Why should you? This job has always drawn $8 a week."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Deep One.
"Gosh all hemlock!" exclaimed the first farmer. "Ain't yer struck water yet? How deep hev ye gone?"

"Bout a hundred feet," replied the other placidly.

"An' ain't ye discouraged?"
"Oh, I dunno! I can't say I ain't gittin' a long well."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Evidence.
"What makes you think our great public men don't work as hard as they used to?"

"By the photographs," replied Farmer Contosse. "When I was a young feller the big men in politics didn't take near as much time to git shaved and have their hair cut."—Washington Star.

New York's Water Supply.
Taking the whole population of the world at 1,500,000,000 people, some idea can be formed of the vastness of New York's water supply. If every man, woman and child on the face of the earth were to walk up to the lakes and reservoirs which supply New York city with water and each to pour in two gallons of water it would not be enough to last that city ten days.

Street Names From Dickens.

Although Dickens is commemorated in street names abroad, there is no street named after him in London. But there is a neat approach to it in Copperfield Road, Stepney, not far from the People's Palace, and to prove that this was inspired by "David Copperfield" we find a Dora street and an Agnes street in close proximity.—London Chronicle.

A Double Request.
"Are you the answers to correspondence man?" inquired the dyspeptic looking caller.

"I am," replied the gentleman addressed. "What can I do for you?"

"Firstly, what will dissolve a chunk of lead in the human stomach? Secondly, won't you please refrain from publishing recipes for plum pudding hereafter?"—Exchange.
